

COST CONTROLLER 80-100 % (F/M/X)

Blum produces lift, hinge, pull-out and pocket systems for furniture that are delivered to more than 120 markets. Did you know that the Finance and Controlling department makes a valuable contribution to product development? Our co-workers in the costing department help to maintain a balance between the costs and functions of our products.

YOU

- ... create and interpret product calculations as a Cost Controller
- ... help to balance costs and function during the development of new products
- ... analyse costs and provide support with optimisations and location issues, thereby contributing to the company's success
- ... serve as the interface to purchasing, marketing, engineering and sales with respect to cost-related issues

WE

- ... value substantiated knowledge – you have the confidence to take on this role based on your training or professional experience
- ... are seeking a team member who possesses analytical skills, recognises correlations based on figures and is able to see the overall picture
- ... are in daily contact with our internal partners – you impress with your open and friendly manner
- ... are looking for a colleague who enjoys working independently and with precision
