

IT-INHOUSE CONSULTANT FOR LOGISTICS EXECUTION (F/M/X)

Blum produces lift, hinge and pull-out systems for furniture that are delivered to more than 120 markets. Did you know that we employ around 350 IT specialists to take care of our modern IT environment?

YOU

- ... work closely with our internal experts and external partner companies from the conception to the implementation of IT applications
- ... like to optimise existing processes or design new ones
- ... want to prove yourself in the field of IT project management and implement national and international logistics projects in the coming years
- ... help to determine the further development of IT applications in logistics in the next few years (Both SAP-EWM and self-developed applications)

WE

- ... are looking for a committed team member who inspires us with a structured, constructive and team-oriented way of working
- ... attach importance to a good education - you bring a relevant education (e.g. business informatics) and/or professional experience with you
- ... are active worldwide - convincing communication in German and English is important to us
